ONCE MORE WE LOSE A GAME

Highbinders Out-Lucked and Out-Hit Locals.

MR. WIGGS' COSTLY THROW

chief feature of the game yesterday, aside from the beating administered to the Elders by the Highbinders, was the ground and lefty tumbling and high art throwing to bleachers of Prof. Jamesy Wiggs, the newest convert of Bishop Grim's staff of throwers. Mr. Wiggs pitched a good enough game of ball had he been more guarded in his horizing the ball around and had he maintained his polse when Stovall his Score:

San Francisco, July 25.—Two hits in the second imming were all that the second imming the second im day, aside from the beating adminis-tered to the Elders by the Highbinders, maintained his poise when Stovall his one high in the air in the ninth. It was certainly something impressive to see the mighty emphasis with which eight or ten feet of Wiggs swayed about like some giant of the forest, and finally, with much crashing of adjacent timber, walloped heavily to the ground.

It was Mr. Taylor, running in from third, frantically giving out a statement to the effect that he had it or would get it or something like that, who furnished the impetus which resulted in the downfall of. Wiggs, Taylor hit the giant amidships, and with a wild cry Jamesy started to go down. Before he struck the earth, however, Stovall was on third wondering what made the greund tremble so. The ball was not caught, it may be added. The mess resulted in letting Elsey Score.

At any rate the man in the bleachers had a narrow escape from annihilation, while Buck ran home with the second tally.

Aside from these doings it was a good game of ball. Both pitchers, including Jimmy and Pfeister (Feester), pitched good ball with good support.

Marshall opened the doings by hitting one of The Wiggs' second growth straight balls for a base and scored on Zeurfoss' double. The next for the enemy came on Jamesy's throw, which has been pictured heretofore. The other two came in the ninth. Zearfoss walked, took third on Elisey's single and scored on an out. Our only run came in the first, when Elder Bridget Donahue hit a safe one and scored on Tacky Tom's long triple. The Elders had a chance or two to hit in a run after that, but were unable to cosnect safely with Herr Feester when the hits were needed.

The same teams will play again this afternoon. This will be the last game in Sait Lake until August 11th. The Elders play at Seattle next week and at Butte the following week, returning home then for four straight weeks, after which they will be away for the rest of the season. The game will start this afternoon at 3:30.

Detroit, Mich.. July 25.—Long's erratic work, due partially to a badly injured hand, was responsible for Chicago's victory today, his errors figuring in the making of four of the five of the runs. White was put out of the game in the eighth with the sacks filled and none out, and Flaherty saved the game. Green was injured in the last, inning. Attendance, 4,700. Score:

Washington, July 25.—In a pitchers' bat-tle the Washingtons defeated Philadel-phia today. Washington won by bunch-ing in the seventh inning two hits, with a base on balls and an excusable error by Waddeil in the eighth. Attendance, 2,700. Score:

New York, July 25.—New York lost to Boston today, although the New Yorks batted out a lead of five runs in the second. Hard hitting by the Bostons, particularly in the sixth, was too much for the home team. Chesbro relieved Tannehill in the seventh and Young took the place of Winters in the sixth. Attendance, 6,000. Park City, July 25.—Con O'Neill and John Harrington, who won the double-handed drilling contest here on July 4, are anxious to learn what the Eureka team intends to do with their challenge. The Park City toam has posted $500 at the First National hank, and is ready to meet the Eureka team for any part of it. The stipulation is that bomanza granite be used. Harrington and O'Neili are willing to go to bonanza granite be used. Harring-ton and O'Neili are willing to go to Eureka to drill if the Eureka team will take the granite from here, this being considered by experts to be the hardest rock known in Utah. NANCIAL CLUB IN LEAGUE.

The management of the Salt Lake base-ball club again changed hands yesterday and now J. M. Reynolds has full control of the destinies of the Saints. Mr. Reynolds bought out the half interest in the club owned by W. V. Garrett, after a week's parley, during which time both gentlemen made offer; to either buy or sell. The reason for Mr. Garrett's retirement from the club, according to his own statement, is because the proposition was not large enough to occupy the attention of both immself and Mr. Reynolds and the latter wanted full control, so Mr. Garrett's interest was turned over to him for exactly the amount Mr. Garrett sin handling the affairs of the club, and the only reason for the movement is as stated above—that there was not enough in the proposition to occupy the attention of both men. Mr. Garrett said last evening that he would leave today for Spokane, and after a short stay there would go to New York on business other would go to New York on business other would go to New York on business other the part of the two and by a series of quick left. Mr. Reynolds said last evening that there would not be any radical changes in the club and that he would go along in the club and that he would go along in the future in the same manner that Eddie Quick goes in the box for Salt Lake today. A strong arm and good luck to Eddie. Salt Lake needs today's game to break even with the pirates, and Quick is just the kind of a boy that will pitch his head off to win.

Pitcher Pfeister, who twirled for San Francisco yesterday, has pitched ten games this season and has won every one of them. This was the kind of a man Salt Lake was up against, and it was no wonder that they could not hit him.
